

CHILD CRIMINAL EXPLOITATION

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW?

ADVICE FOR PARENTS AND CARERS

Criminal gangs operate within Essex and are always looking for new 'recruits' to deal drugs/weapons. It is therefore important for parents to be aware of the signs of this activity, and how they recruit and groom for the purposes of criminal exploitation. EVERY child is at risk of being exploited.

Changes in behaviour (withdrawn, secretive, isolated).

Unexplained increase in money. Possessing mobile phones, gadgets, gifts, designer clothing and jewellery.

Use of drugs and/or alcohol.

Relationships with unknown associates/new peer group.

Missing episodes (not disclosing where they have been, with who, or how they got there).

Unexplained injuries.

Showing aggressive and violent behaviours.

Carrying weapons.

WHO DO THEY RECRUIT?

EVERY child is at risk of being exploited. Often those who are targeted and groomed are children and young people with vulnerabilities.

However, more children and young people that are not known to Police, Social Care, or Local Authorities are being recruited into gangs. These victims have had less attention from these agencies and therefore become more attractive to exploiters. This is an increasing 'model' used by gangs who continue to evolve and adapt how they target and groom victims for the sole purpose of exploitation.

In addition, gangs target children and young people on line through social media platforms and gaming apps. This enables gangs to remain 'faceless' to their victims.
